

Five Times August, January Song

Here we are
Clock strikes heaven
We're invisible tonight
And I want to get to know you better
We're closing in
On another year to get away from here

And all this time
Will coincide with peace of mind
The couch sits alone as we talk on our phones
Then kisses start a genesis for twelve months and oh
How we should forget old acquaintances
But sometimes it's hard to let go

And the TV stares
Back as we watch
Tonight our eyes will climb inside

A black windowed box
As we talk here for hours
On roof tops and shower champagne
It's the same as before

New resolutions find same old conclusions
Cigarettes that you'll regret
Break a bet that you made
Find every reason in smoke clouds of treason
It's okay, but in no way is it your fault or mine
Say goodbye
Say goodbye

Here we are
Clock strikes heaven
We're invisible tonight
And I want to get to know you better
