

Flangers, Fragile

Sit down there I don't realize being alone
And my head I feel it's going on
I'll take you down to my place got a gram
But there is still one person I'd like to get on the phone

Alone with her, I don't care
Shake down there I don't realize being alone

I will wait before, knocking on your door

Sit down there i'm going down all alone
She's my angel even when I am down
We're getting together hanging out on the sofa
Now it's too much cause I can't stand being alone

All alone, all alone

Shake down there I don't realize being alone
Tell me how fragile I am
Wait before knocking on you're door

Shake down there I don't realize being alone
And in my face, you see smile like a stone
Cause you looked at me once and you said call me again
But there is still one person i'd like to get on the phone

It's you
