

Flashlight Brown, Open Your Eyes

Open your eyes look up to the sky
Never thought i'd see the day i'd have to say goodbye

I walked out onto the field
Savouring all the air that i breathed
Knowing that i only had 20 more
Something clicked inside of my head
Realizing that soon i'd be dead
Focus on my feet so as not to scream

Tie me up and read me a prayer
My fear echoes all through the square
Raise your guns and blow my brains to kingdom come
You'll get no revenge when i die
I'll go down with finger up high
I'll save you a seat in hell you self important butcher
