

Flexa Lyndo, (Nobody Will Tell Us) How Things Work

What happened in this life ?

You were supposed to stay by my side.

But destiny has changed the rules, you went up into the blue.

Now I'll leave it away, I never had more to say.

I took the train home from your house, but you're not a driver anymore.

What will happen now that you're gone ?

No one will tell us how things work.

This life isn't fair.

Those things you're leaving away.
