

Flowing Tears, Joy Parade

drapeline, drapeline
... you're the sea within I flow hatesmile, hatesmile
... distant waters filter through frontlines, frontlines
... frowning joy parade to you redsky, deadsky
... you're a shelter I refuse, I hide

... a joyful surface dance...
... so unconditional ...

we walked the streets at night fireworks in summerrain and how I wish the rain to fall again a wave to flood my life distant seats on concrete fields and how I wish I could not care at all elate the open mind trustfull wounds revealed to bleed and how i wish my blood to flow away i walk the streets at night leaving miles forever gone afraid i'll never be a child again
