Flowing Tears, Odium

a summer dawn, this red familiar strain a rusty nail cracked in a wall unreal the scene to leave with the morning train while in crowds of grey you walk

{on and on the line}

so close your eyes and touch the odium in deep sea skies the searing odium meshworks crawl to feed the odium a screw inside...

indifferent eyes, a milky window pane a distant movie worn and strung sonambulistic tool, take a walk in the summer rain besides illuminating songs

{of iconoclast kind}

So close your eyes....
