Flowing Tears, Unspoken

someone said the sun has gone someone spoke of fear someone said the stars have cried when someone shed a tear someone stole the smile I lost and someone picked up fear someone caught the lines I wrote to someone far from here someone took away the sky and someone lost belief someone set my world on fire and the brightest spark is me

somewhere in the dark somewhere in the dark somewhere in the dark where we won't see will they come for me? will they run from me? will they come for me? will they set me free?
