

Fly To The Sky, In Love

What will I think if I live in a poor, sad world..
I'll run to you
I won't need to cry when I have to hesitate and wait
I have enough just with you..
I seemed to hate, to have to confront the world head-on
I would be nothing without you
If I ever have to say goodbye...
Time will end and I won't be able to do it again
I must live being true to myself
If you're ever taken away,
Maybe you won't know I'll be waiting
My greedy thoughts must end
I can't sleep at this time
I seemed so afraid that everything is ending
In my eyes I can see the break-up
If I ever have to say goodbye...
Time will end and I won't know any other reason why
I can't dream of a place where I am with you
I will only have a dream of U again
What kind of days will they be without any meaning...?
I can't find the times when we are together
If I ever have to say goodbye...
Time will end and I won't know any other reason why
I can't dream of a place where I am with you
I will only have a dream of U
I have enough just with you.....with you
I will only ever be in love with you
