

Fly To The Sky, Influenza

I'm really not okay. This break-up,
I'm not even ready to accept it yet.
I shouldn't have just let you go,
If I had known that it was going to feel like dying.
After sending her go, like a person who's caught an incurable disease,
I just wait for the day until I die. I can't do this.
You're the rest of my life
You're the rest of my heart,
Forgive me now, My love. Come back to my side.
Just looking at you, I don't have enough time,
Like the influenza in my body.
I promised myself several times to become stronger but
I tried to erase all your traces but
Why do you look so sad in my dreams?
Is it that you want to come back?
I didn't know it then, that you were my other part.
I send you back and after that I can't heal.
You're the rest of my life
You're the rest of my heart,
Forgive me now, My love. Come back to my side.
Just looking at you, I don't have enough time,
Like the influenza in my body
Look at me, here. This person that longs for only you.
My tears, even one last tear, have all dried up.
Why aren't you coming and why does the cold wind blow again on my hurting heart?
You're the rest of my life
You're the rest of my heart,
Forgive me now, My love. Come back to my side.
Just looking at you, I don't have enough time,
Like the influenza in my body
My angel, my dear don't take your love away
My heart's torn apart and I'm breaking down inside..
Please, just come back to me
Just looking at you, I don't have enough time,
Like the influenza in my body
