

Fly To The Sky, No Matter How I Wish And Wish

First you laughed, then you cried
Forgive me for doing such foolish acts
When your tears gather
They easily turn the happiest days upside down
I turn the clock back and run to you
This separation is a dead end for me
I regret doing so much wrong to you
No matter how I wish and wish, you haven't forgiven me
Third time you laughed, fourth day you laughed
It might be too late, but can you forgive me?
I keep wiping away the tears that fall
When I think of our memories, I smile, even though I hurt
From the first day I followed behind you
Easy love was what I expected
I regret doing so much wrong to you
No matter how I wish and wish, you haven't forgiven me
Why am I missing you more than anyone else?
Is it possible for us to fall in love again?
I miss you so much
After this separation, I don't think I will love once more
I guess it's a wish that can't come true
No matter how I wish and wish
Even a thousand, a million times
