

Fly To The Sky, Question

When you meet someone who resembles me
Will you stop and stare?
Will past you be reminded of past memories?
Do you still
Smile and talk like me?
When I'm mentioned in a conversation
You force a smile and turn away
You pretend not to know me
We used to stay up all night planning the next day
Will you be lonely without me?
Atleast once a day, you appear in my thoughts
In the sky, and on the ground I walk, I see you
Unanswered questions have piled
I wonder about
Your everyday ordinary life
I promised myself I'd do great things
You would watch me act foolishly
You were a kind person
I hate myself for tearing you apart.
Why didn't I realize it before, instead of regretting it now?
Atleast once a day, you appear in my thoughts
In the sky, and on the ground I walk, I see you
Unanswered questions have piled
Because of my selfishness, I beg millions of times
To be able to let it all go
I can only smile by remembering my past with you
It's the only thing my heart remembers
With the one reason of us being together
We were outstanding, you and I...
With you by my side, the days were beautiful...
Being with you was easier than breathing
