

Fly To The Sky, The Promise

Unfamiliar pains always find us like habits and we cry
But the pathetic reality you were always sorry for is not eternal
Some day we will fly free
Just like your dream, we will
One step, then another, you will not give up,
I trust in you, though you will get tired
It cannot always be the same, more days will await us
Thank you, the heavens that sent you will protect us
Some day we will fly free (Oh~ yes you will)
Just like your dream, we will
I promise you, until my life lets me go
I can protect you because I love you
The small wish that we so prepared to greet beautifully is near
Some day we will fly free
The days that your tears dreamed of
Will be so beautiful
