

Flybanger, Radical

Something told me,
I'm peeling all forgiveness like I never did before Off to the promised land now Bless this normal soul yeah
The Pain of Shedding weakness (Never thought it'd push this far) We've lived eternal darkness let there be light

Miles away you feel so small Something new that won't forget miles away inside your playground rage Right away you see it all Crush the truth that's a radical Right away your bridge falls
Crush the truth that's a radical

Something told me I'm bleeding all the sickness like there like there never was before the pain of shedding weakness never thought it'd push this far

We've lived eternal darkness let there be ligh
