

Flying Blind, Love To See You Cry

Driving me away
I do it every day
I watch the miles roll by
More clever alibis.
I'll take a walk outside while inside im exposed.
Im coming back around before the door is closed.
I love to see you cry
I love that it's hard to say goodbye
I love a little pain
As long as I can see you smile again.
Driving me away
I do it every day
The one true thing I believe
I forget so easily.
I love to see you cry
I love that it's hard to say goodbye
I love a little pain
As long as I can see you smile again.
Try to reach my feet
Cause you know I still can't sleep
I know that when I win
Ive really lost again.
