

Focal Point, Enraged

enraged with anger

so sick of society

what have we come to?

This world is strangling itself angered by the actions of the militant

I try to love

but I can't see past your actions

I try to understand, but I can't

I can't see

I can't understand

I can't understand you actions

I can't understand, hold my hand through the darkness

I can't understand, hold my hand

I can't understand
