

Folkearth, The Will Of Odin

Stars a' glimmer in a valley sheer,
Steel is drawn and shines in moonlight;
The heavens quake then pour heavy rain
Thunders announce the bloody battle's eve...

The wheel of the sun is carved on my shield
And so are the runes of Thor on my sword!
Odin's blood has blessed my spear:
Invincible I am - dare stand in my path!

We crossed the sea in a dragon-ship,
We braved the fury of the waves
We've come here for war, we bring woe,
Fires that shall burn high and rise to the sky!

Odin ride forever by our side -
Thy will is grim but it will be done!
Tyr embrace in thy might your sons -
Freyja weave thy spell of magic...

The wheel of the sun is carved on my shield
And so are the runes of Thor on my sword!
Odin's blood has blessed my spear:
Invincible I am - dare stand in my path!
