

Folkearth, Tribute To Viking Gods

Listen, son I'll tell you now how vikings die
With bloody axe; an arm so strong and sword held high
That's how a viking dies
We die in battle cry
Trust in the gods; trust in the runes and in your steel
Live and death and live a never ending wheel
At Odin's table, we meet again
Heroes meet again
I sailed across the seven seas for fifty years
I conquered all the continents with fire and steel

A tribute to the viking gods

Now I'm old and in my next fight I'm going to die
I meet you again in Odin's hall, no need to cry
