

Fonzie, Finding The Way

The place that I called home is not there anymore I've lost my seat inside, it's hard to say goodbye

there's no one by my side

I found my way
I guess I won't let you down alone and frustrated you're sad and I'm jaded

go around
there's a long road and a hard way to go
go around
it's a tough world, but there's hope for me now for faith in me you lack this time I will fight back we both are in this game, there's no time to complain let's start from scratch again

I found my way

go around
it's a tough world, but there's hope for me now no I won't give up now, I won't let you down
