

Foo Fighters, Love Dies Young

Love dies young
And there's no resuscitation
Once it's done
No regeneration
It's a losing game
That'll make you play your hand against your chest
Love dies young

Love dies young
And there's no reanimation
Once it's gone
No regeneration
It's a bitter kiss
That'll make you wish you never had a taste

Love dies young
Love dies young
Please don't take my breath
Don't take my breath away
Love dies young

Love's so dumb
So what's the fascination
Leaves you numb
With a nasty reputation
When you lose your head
And the lights go out
You'll never be the same

Love dies young
Love dies young
Please don't take my breath
Don't take my breath away
Love dies young

Neverending cemeteries
Funeral partades
All your dreeMS ARE BURIED in their place

Love dies young
Love dies young
Please don't take my breath
Don't take my breath away
Love dies young
Love dies young
Love dies young
Please don't take my breath
Don't take my breath away
Love dies young
