Foo Fighters, The Line

yes or not what is true but a dirty black cloud coming out of the blue I was wrong I was right I'm a blood moon born un the dead of night break my bones I don't care all I ever wanted was a body to share heart's gone cold brush run dry satellite searching for a sign of life like you

somewhere? are you there?

the tears in your eyes someday will dry we fight for our lives cause everything's on the line this time listen close I can't hide I'm a p[age torn from a broken spine sun gets low I get high satellite searching for a sign of life like you

are you there? /2x

somewhere? are you there?
