

Foreigner, Prisoner Of Love

In your book of broken hearts
You had my name now the story starts
We'll never be the same again I know

I'm a victim of circumstance
I'm the one that got the second chance
One chance...that's all I need, and I won't let go

Now you've got to understand I'm ready
I won't be denied
This lonely heart must be satisfied

You lie waiting far across the sea
Wild horses could never stop me
The highest mountain ain't high enough
I'm coming back, gonna take you prisoner of love

Calling all dreamers, every heart broken fool
Doing what I can...but, love is cruel
The highest mountain ain't high enough
I won't give up, gonna take you prisoner of love

You took the magic of the silver screen
You've got the look, that dreams are made of I'll do anything to make my dreams come true

Now turn this city upside down
I comb the streets of every lonely town
I'll never rest, I'm a man possessed
I need love from you

I know you've got it there and I want it
I won't be denied
Your lonely heart will be satisfied

You lie waiting far across the sea
Wild horses could never stop me
The highest mountain ain't high enough
I'm coming back, gonna take you prisoner of love

Calling all dreamers, every heart broken fool
Doing what I can but love is cruel
The highest mountain ain't high enough
I won't give up, gonna take you prisoner of love

Calling all dreamers, every heart broken fool
Doing what I can but love is cruel
The highest mountain ain't high enough
I'm coming back, gonna take you prisoner of love

Baby, I'll be sailing far across the sea
Wild horses could never stop me
The highest mountain ain't high enough
I won't give up, gonna take you prisoner of love

I'm coming back gonna take you prisoner of love
I'm coming back, I'm coming back
I won't give up, gonna take you prisoner of love
I get to your love
I'm coming back, gonna take you prisoner of love
Take you prisoner of love
I won't give up, I won't give up, gonna take you prisoner of love
I'm coming back, gonna take you prisoner of love
