

Forever Changed, No Way Out

The thought of this has left you numb.
I'm waiting here, will you respond?
You don't care, it isn't fair...it's me.
Rejection breaks; the time has come.
You leave the room...air leaves your lungs.
Turn and scream, blaming me...it's fine.
No way out.
Are you running out of dreams?
No way out.
Are you learning how to need?
Don't turn your back until you hit the wall.
I will be waiting there to catch your fall.
But you don't mind, you're doing fine without me.
Anger takes you beyond control.
Losing the battle when you hit the floor.
You turn around, I'm looking down...it's time.
No way out.
Are you running out of dreams?
No way out.
Are you learning how to need?
