

Forgive-Me-Not, Shining Brightly

Every cry of heart
Chooses you as home
You aren't in paradise
You're mistaken now you know waiting has an end

But you are shining brightly
And you can't stand this world
You live and try to live in You're shining but you're cold

Palace of my dreams
With the nights as walls
And it always seems (to me)
You're mistaken now you know love will never wait

But you are shining brightly
And you can't stand this world
You live and try to live in
You're shining but you're cold

Fire in your eyes looks like close door
We hide our signs we've been livin' for

This reality will fit dreams
I really can't admit Living partly in my soul making me achieve my goal Maybe if I see your smile heaven will take me tonight I'll been looking for my way my last game to play

But you are shining brightly
And you can't stand this world
You live and try to live in You're shining but you're cold...
