

Forgive-Me-Not, Soothe My Heart

When I see you are to cry
Tears are falling from the sky
And the meaning of your eyes is strange
I never felt that you loved me
I never thought that you could see That magic moment of my life when I'm free

I never felt that you loved me
I never thought that
you could see

To see the light...

Now I wish that you could hear
That I'm lonely with my fear I've been looking at your eyes for years Come to me and soothe my heart
Fill it up with useless art You're the last to see my light

To see the light...

When I see you are to cry
Tears are falling from the sky
And the meaning of
your eyes is strange
I never felt that you loved me
I never thought that
you could see
That magic moment of my life when I'm free

I never felt that you loved me
I never thought that
you could see

To see the light...
To see the light...
