

Four Star Mary, She Knows

she flies from a blinding light and spirals to my heart i try to find my mind but don't know where to start

won't ever can't ever find my sanity
won't ever
can't ever 'til i hear her calling for me

she knows that side of me can't help it can't help that side of me just a little more just until i know what i'm feeling just a little more to find my sanity i'm lost in a thousand nights but Sunshine's at my feet i'd walk through a thousand fires and next to me she'd be she knows that side she's calling back to me i've lost my mind i never believed ('til she's calling for me)
