

Fozzy, Enemy

Do you remember me
You can't see the things
That make me who I am
You'll never understand

And I gotta keep hoping
You're living off my sweat
Holding, the devil's on my back
And these are the days
That I dreamed about
And you're always there
To remind me

That you're my enemy
All that we had has gone away
There are times that fade away
But you'll still be my enemy

The friend you had in me
You turned on so easily
I'm sad to see you go
At least now I know

And I gotta keep hoping
You're living off my sweat
Holding, the devil's on my back
And these are the days
That I dreamed about
And you're always there
To remind me

That you're my enemy
All that we had has gone away
There are times that fade away
But you'll still be my enemy
My enemy
My enemy
My enemy

And I see clearly now
You tried to bleed me
And I see clearly now
You tried to feed on me

And I see clearly now
You tried to bleed me
And I see clearly now
You tried to feed on me

And I see clearly now
You tried to bleed me
And I see clearly now
You tried to feed on me

'Cause you're my enemy
All that we had has gone away
There are times that fade away
But you'll still be my enemy
My enemy
My enemy
My enemy
