Frank Black And The Catholics, The Swimmer

In the wake of his chariot you swam toward the latitudes leaving for happier times florida far behind trying your best you were ignoring the rescuers you'd gone so very long you were so very strong the scene was so tragic but that was the magic will you never drown? will you learn to use some forgotten part? are you goin down where the ballyhoos and the tritons are? you were so incredible finding all the edible prize of the sea prize of the sea in the wake of his chariot you swam toward the latitudes leaving for happier times florida far behind in division pelagic you were choragic.