Frank Black, Billy Radcliff

Billy radcliffe didn't go to town and when he looked up he was really looking down catching blue in Billy radcliffe owned by the state from his first breath to the cemetery gate he was the first boy born Billy radcliffe very first one he really had lived just a cursed son a split in half man sang the cherubi Billy radcliffe saw what the devil man saw a spot of blue in the black of the eye of the lord such a cursed son a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a cursed son a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a cursed son a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a cursed son a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a cursed son a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a cursed son a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a cursed son a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a cursed son a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a cursed son a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a cursed son a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a cursed son a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a cursed son a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a cursed son a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a cursed son a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a cursed son a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a split in the black of the eye of the lord such a split in the black of the eye of the

Billy sadly didn't live long he had to stay there because he wasn't too strong he's stepping out the of Billy radcliffe very first one really a hatched man a light switch son a split in half man sang the cher Now billy radcliffe saw what the devil man saw a spot of blue in the black of the eye of the lord now