Frank Sinatra, Walk Away

(E.Bernstein, C.Leigh)

[Recorded June 22, 1973, Hollywood]

Walk away, please go before you throw your life away, A life I could share for just a day. We could have met some years ago. For your sake I'll say, Walk away, just go, walk away and live a life that's full with no regret. Don't look back to me, just try to forget. Why build a dream that cannot come true, so be strong, Reach the stars now, walk away, walk on. If I heard your voice, I'll beg you to stay, So don't say a word, just run away. Goodbye, my love, my tears will fall now that you're gone, I can't help but cry but I must go on. I'm sad that after searching so long, Knew I love you but told you, walk away, walk on.
