

Franklin Daniel, Who Wants To Live Forever

Forever my love, we'll never be apart
Wherever the moon shines it's light in our heart
We've set a course for who knows where We'll get there in our own sweet time
Sometimes love feels like an empty room
It's cold and silent, you got nowhere to go
And don't you know, you're my reason for tomorrow
Who wants to live forever
Who wants to live forever
Who wants to wait forever anyway
And I need you, now until forever
All my life I've waited for someone like you
Love won't die if we put our hearts together
You and I can make this dream come true
When we're together where there's only love
Never felt a heartbeat so close to mine Don't you know you're my reason for tomorrow
Sometimes I've got to tell you The meaning I will have to try
To take your mind to places You're left alone with something
And I hope for you it's one thing
