

Franks Enemy, Another Liberation

He's freed me once again
&gt;From the mess I got myself in
How could I have ever thought
That He could ever give me up?
When He invested His life in me
When He looked ahead to me
Satan fought hard to bring me down
Jesus effortlessly brings me round
I was in the pit of my own thoughts
Heard the hellhounds, started feeling hot
I was crawling on the floor, I couldn't pray
Saw dark clouds over the rest of my days
Don't ask me how it happened, I did nothing
Don't know how I got above, I have no wings
When you hear &quot;greater is He...&quot; you'd best believe it
A power greater than me and the one who oppressed me
The one who oppressed me
It's another liberation
Once again
Will I fall again in days or weeks?
Will I fail again to run from the deceit?
If I do I hope I remember this day
When Jesus came and grabbed me as I ran away
Though I'm lukewarm, He'll stay the same
He's stuck with me I have nothing to say
Falling over and over and over again
Look up from the floor and I'm pulled up again
I'm pulled up again
It's another liberation
One more time
He's freed me once again
&gt;From the mess I got myself in
How could I have ever thought
That He could ever give me up?
Though I'm lukewarm, He'll stay the same
He's stuck with me I have nothing to say
Falling over and over and over again
Look up from the floor and I'm pulled up again