

Freddie Hart, Let's Pretend We're Kids Again

We grew up together we were such a happy sight to see
We played house together you your old ragged doll and me
We grew up then we got married and that's when our trouble began
If we can't be happy as grown-ups let's pretend that we're kids once again

So put on your high heel slippers like your mother would never ever let you wear
Let's pretend our little girl is your old ragged doll with pretty long blonde curly hair
A love like ours so sweet and true should never never ever have to end
If we can't be happy as grown-ups let's pretend that we're kids once again
If we can't be happy as grown-ups let's pretend that we're kids once again
