

Freiheit, Forever And A Day

Sunday morning, half past four
She went softly out the door
In the early morning sun
She didn't even tell a friend
Not a goodbye in the end
No one knew that she was gone

Just a tear and sigh
And as feelings die
She is leaving it behind
Forever and a day
Changing point of view
Making dreams come true
And I know what's on her mind
Forever and a day

Takes the ring right off her hand
No more reason to pretend
On a train at station's end
Searching for a little more
Feelings never felt before
Till the river starts to bend

Just a tear and sigh
And as feelings die
She is leaving it behind
Forever and a day
Changing point of view
Making dreams come true
And I know what's on her mind
Forever and a day

She's leaving it all behind

Just a tear and sigh
And as feelings die
She is leaving it behind
Forever and a day
Changing point of view
Making dreams come true
And I know what's on her mind
Forever and a day
