

Frenzal Rhomb, Don't Shoot The Guests

Great idea instead of going out we're gonna fix up the house
And cook some food for our friend
Might never have the chance again
Its only once a while that I see your murderous smile
And fear a repeat of the last time
Don't wanna go out
But don't wanna go inside for a minimum of 25 to life
I don't need the strife
But you think its fun
Without medication
But it makes me nervous in a dinner context it makes no difference where I hide your gun please Don't shoot the guests
Coz I'll be the one who has to clean up the mess
Its not that they're unkind
Its just you're not well of mind
The conversation flows as if this night'll never end
Maybe it'll be fine maybe it wont be this time round
But I doubt it by the look in your eyes
I see that you despise
And you're set to snap
You got you're firearm back please
Don't shoot, Don't shoot the guests
I'm always the one who has to clean up the mess Don't wanna be the one who when tha chaos starts to erupt in the room
Has to explain the someone's family that they won't be home real soon
But would you like to come around in June?
Don't shoot, Don't shoot the guests
An awkward social situation at best
I'll be the one with social skills put to the test.
