

Frenzal Rhomb, Pants

i walk around the house in nothing but a shirt im not embarrassed to go out it wouldnt be the first ive looked underneath everything the place is such a mess theres stuff to do, i must go out its probably for the best i couldnt find my pants today i think its probably better that way i used to dream i was at school and running with no pants that nightmare has become a dream its difficult to grasp even though i must avoid a visit from the cops theres nothing i like better than to walk up to the shops
