

Frenzal Rhomb, Wish You Were There

It's time you went away for good
No apologies I think you really should Always demonstrate your self righteous and Boring outlook now if in doubt

Wish you were there

It's probably not long before
This feeling will subside won't choke me anymore
But until that day
Your fucked up justifications
Keep coming and coming

Wish you were there

To contemplate just wastes my time
About as interesting as this annoying vocal whine
It could be advantageous to shove you
On an icebreaker south now somehow

Wish you were there
