

Frenzal Rhomb, You Are A Knob

Political aspirations have never been that high on your list your minimal contributions are enough to win the smiles of some If your self made institutions are strong enough to save your face then maybe you'll be around for the next punk rock band from the States Because

You are a knob

It's your together disposition, can't cover your lack of conviction it's easy to be funny when the jokes are all that you've got and if your day old contradictions are not enough to shut you up then maybe you will be around to write another fucking song about vivisection

You are a knob
You are a knob (annoying mother fuckers that you can't ignore)
I see your face in the crowd, stand up proud
I cry out loud

It's your conceited propositions why don't you let me count the reasons it's difficult to swallow when my mouth is so clamped shut when your day old contradictions are not enough to break your back
then maybe you will be around to witness what you have and what you lack

You are a knob
You are a knob
You are a knob (annoying mother fuckers that you can't ignore)
