

Freya, Yellow Ladybird

Yellow Ladybird

Sometimes I wish I were a yellow ladybird
Sometimes I wish I had a yellow pair of wings
I would - I would visit God -yeah yeah, I would - I would visit God

But all I have is you and that's all right
Yes all I have is you but that's ok
Cause when I sin with you I forget all the other things I want
- all the other things I want... and

You give me wings you make me fly - up to meet my maker
You snapped me out of the apathy - you made me wake up
You give me wings you make me fly - like a ladybird yeah
You snapped me out of the apathy - you made me wake up
ooh, you made me wake up

Be the flower I kiss and I'll be your ladybird
Be there to kiss my nose when I'm sad

Cause all I have is you and that's all right
Yes all I have is you - but that's ok
Cause when I sin with you I forget all the other things I want
- all the other things I want... and

You give me wings you make me fly - up to meet my maker
You snapped me out of the apathy - you made me wake up
You give me wings you make me fly - like a ladybird yeah
You snapped me out of the apathy - you made me wake up

You give me wings you make me fly ooh
You snapped me out of the apathy - you made me wake up
You give me wings you make me fly - like a ladybird yeah yeah
You snapped me out of the apathy - you made me wake up

Ooh You made me wake up

Yeah - you woke me up now
You woke me up now ... ooh you woke me up now!
