Frida, Heart Of The Country

<A candle burns in the Heart of the country The flame fades though I see to it sadly It takes me further away than I have ever been

I wait and the darkness comes I pray for my only one And I wonder if you ever Will see this land again

We took this land And we brought it goodness it's taken everythinh And left only emptiness I am not broken Although I have the seeds in me

I wait and the darkness comes...

I hide my face against the sun I hide my fear from everyone But I've had enough of secrets They're all lies we're scared to tell I just need someone to be with I just need to say you fell

Ther's nothing out here
But me and a whisper
And now it's faling
I won't even listen
I watch the fall and it's
Time that I was leaving too

I wait and the darkness comes...>