

From First To Last, Ride The Wings Of Pestilence

I'll be hiding in the shadows I'll be waiting in the dark to drive this blade straight through your heart I'll drag your body to the car as blood races down my arm I think everyone will wonder where you are, tonight.

I'll hide you in my walls your body will never be found I'll wear your skin as a suit, pretend to be you your friends will like you more than they used to dear diary my teen angst bullshit has a body count I believe its 6 going on 7 now

I've been dreaming about you in a pool of your own blood with your eyes gouged out by the work of my thumbs the scent of your insides from under the floorboards the perfect perfume to settle a score.

I'll hide you in my walls
your body will never be found
I'll wear your skin as a suit, pretend to be you
your friends will like you more than they used to pretend to be you, your friend will like you more than they used to ride the wings of ride the wings of pestilence
ride the wings of pestilence
