

From First To Last, Ultimatums For Egos

The last thing that i wanted was your company, but you still came running back here anyway.
And the truth is that ill never tell you anything because everytime i try my words come out and kill me quick.
Crush my dreams ill fade away.
Crush my dreams ill fade away.
As long as what you wanted was for me to be miserable,
im breaking down everyday, the sky is a new shade of grey.
Trying to say youre sorry when these were you intentions; cant take back what youve said.
Ill never forgive, ill never forget(cross my heart)
The last thing that i needed was you sympathy, but you still showed it to me anyway.
You live for your excuses, and you should know by now that everytime you try your words come out and kill you quick.
Crush my dreams ill fade away.
Crush my dreams ill fade away.
As long as what you wanted was for me to be miserable,
im breaking down everyday, the sky is a new shade of grey.
Trying to say youre sorry when these were you intentions; cant take back what youve said.
Ill never forgive, ill never forget(ill never)
Why dont you throw away everything to gain nothing at all but one less person who cares if you end up ded....ill just forget
