

Front Porch Step, Heart Of Mine

I watch you dance, and I can't help but want to take your hand.
And spin you 'round in circles as we sway across the room,
each others eyes will be the view.
And I can't help but think that I'd be dying without you.
And I bite your lip, you taste like what's become my happiness.
And I am just so thankful that I stand with you today,
you saved my life in every way, and I have to take a breath so I can find the strength to say that

Baby I don't believe I've ever felt this before,
you are the only girl this heart of mine could ever adore.
And I can promise you now with everything that I am
as long as I'm alive this heart of mine belongs in your hands.

When I see you cry, I swear I'll never fail to dry your eyes and tell you that I love you more than you will ever know, and I'll try my best to show you that in every single prayer
I'm thanking God I get to know you.
And I don't know how my life deserves this love that I have found, so I will stand in wonder of this gift that I received.
and I will try my best to be every ounce of good that you have claimed to see in me because

Baby I don't believe I've ever felt this before,
you are the only girl this heart of mine could ever adore.
And I can promise you now with everything that I am
as long as I'm alive this heart of mine belongs in your hands.

Give me your heart,
I swear I'll keep it safe within my arms.
'Cause I am just so thankful for the time I spent with you, but it was not enough at all, so I'm getting on one knee to tell that girl that made me fall that

Baby I don't believe I've ever felt this before,
you are the only girl this heart of mine could ever adore.
And if you marry me now I only have one demand, as long as I'm alive this ring of mine belongs on your hand.

Baby I don't believe I've ever felt this before,
you are the only girl this heart of mine could ever adore.
And I can promise you now with everything that I am
as long as I'm alive this heart of mine belongs in your hands.
