

Frost Commander, Destination Unknown

Breake these chains
Take away my pain
And I will follow you even to the afterlife
Across the dreams full of life the emotions that divide
Despite the time, you are still in my sight
And I know that I won't leave it behind
The memory of this griping cold
Cause there was something in your eyes.
That made me feel like touching the stars.

Distant shadow`s lust for light
A dream of heaven, it`s all inside me
Destination unknown.
Will I ever stumble upon your gaze again?

Eyes cold as ice
And nothing left to say
The silence claims my fate forevermore sad face fades away
In the mist of disillusion
The train lights, vanishing deep in the dark
And I know that I won't leave it behind
The memory of this griping cold
Cause there was something in your eyes.
That made me feel like I`m touching the stars.

Distant shadow`s lust for light
A dream of heaven, it`s all inside me
Destination unknown,
Will my weary soul find relief in your arms?

Distant shadow`s lust for light
A dream of heaven, it`s all inside me
Destination unknown,
Will I ever stumble upon your gaze again?
