Fugazi, Stacks

This time is real I feel it passing through the telephone No one is home now No one is home These stacks They keep me down So I build some more America is just a word but I use it Language keeps me locked and repeating This time is real I see it passing by the avenue Nothing to do now There's nothing to do I see them spinning on So I spin out America is just a word but I use it Language keeps me locked and repeating