

Fully Down, Best Of Me

Look around to see something real
But all I see are perceptions changing me
Through my eyes I see the walls closing in
I'm always walking away from open doors

Everything's going to be alright
Just listen to what you're told

You believed in the best of me
I'll stay true
'cause I found out
I haven't felt this way in a long time
I haven't felt this way

It's good to hear that you're doing well
But I don't need to say things you already know
We'll take the road less traveled and
See where the story ends
Our lies in our hands we take
Speaking words to myself
I should've let you know
