

Funker Vogt, Take Care

Crowded cities polluted air every day is getting worse try to breathe the smoky steam it will affect your lungs burning oil-fields in Iraq a dark cloud darkens the sun but this happens so far away so why should I take care

we are living in a nightmare
we call it normal life
the time is reached that we take care
and stop dancing on the knife

The ozone-layer is destroyed deadly sunrays hit the earth the world turns from green to grey all that remains is dust as long as I live it will be fine there's nothing what I can do the world will die and so do I
