

Funker Vogt, The End

Was it an act of evolution or a mistake more divine?
The creation of mankind a million years ago
Too few of them can be convinced about the truth of life
The majority of men " still fighting for their own ends

Chorus girls in uniform like fallen angels by my side
Celebrating the modern age
The devil wins this fight
In the end we are condemned to go down with our race
Too much destroyed already
We have reached the end of days

We have reached the final chapter
We are almost at the end
The time we have remaining is better wisely spent
