

Funker Vogt, Words Of Power

Your lungs are filled with rotten air diseases rule the world people are dying on the streets while you pass them by

Your faith will keep you movin' on in a restless world Here you have to find yourself in this place without grace

Speak the Words of Power
so you will survive
And see the golden flower
a symbol for your life

So be faithful to yourself believe in your vision
The end of your fight is nearly finished don't give up now

It's the time for a new start based on your faith All you need is a strong will to recreate the Earth

so you will survive
a symbol for your life
