

Fur Patrol, Little Heart

Whatever reason you came tumbling in my life
So good to have you that I never would have denied
Now that we breathe apart
I don't need to tell you
I keep breaking your little heart
I just keep breaking your little heart
I keep breaking your little heart
Don't want to be alone in this and I don't want to fall apart
No need to make this lonesome alibi
But I keep breaking your little heart
I just keep breaking your little heart
I keep breaking your little heart
Little heart... little heart
Don't want to be alone again
Don't want to fall apart
Though I don't mean to I just break your little heart
And I'll keep breaking your little heart
I will keep breaking your little heart
I keep breaking your little heart
Your little heart
Your little heart
Little heart... little heart
I keep breaking your little heart
I keep breaking...
I keep breaking your little heart
I keep breaking...
