Fury In The Slaughterhouse, Born To Slide Away

We had our hippest time when it was unhip to be hip we've quit things when it was expensive to quit we did the right things when the time and place were wrong we've written a nice one but never released that song but in our lives and that's for sure nothing can be forseen or is static and as far as i can see this car is no automatic cause we're born to slide away you can see us stumble and fall day by day cause we're are born to slide away and i hope it will go on day by day

Don't get me wrong i think we've loved the fruits of success but we've never really learned the way to play this buisiness chess oh how often i doubted that the way is our true destination but in our lives and that's for sure nothing can be foreseen or is static and as far as i can see this car is no automatic
